"Stylish and confident, the multidisciplinary CENTRO Journal studies Puerto Rican culture in all of its expansive manifestations."
Library Journal

Since its first number in 1987, the journal has proven to be one of the Centro's most important links to the public. A multidisciplinary, bilingual, refereed publication that welcomes scholarly articles in the humanities and the social and natural sciences, as well as interpretive essays, interviews, fiction, reviews and art, CENTRO Journal reflects developments in the field of Puerto Rican studies.
Although primarily an academic publication directed at disseminating the growing body of scholarship about Puerto Rico and Puerto Ricans, the journal retains elements of its earlier incarnation, publishing work in a variety of formats. The journal encourages a dialogue that compares Puerto Ricans with other racialized ethnic groups, particularly other Latinos and African Americans. CENTRO Journal is available by subscription or, as with all of our publications, directly from our offices.
